

1st Corinthians

CHAPTER 7:1-9

1) Privilege of marriage

2) Motivated by love

A. A divine duty

B. A divine reason

C. A divine instruction

3) Freedom to chose

1) By and large do you think most people who call themselves "Christian" today obey the Bible's parameters for sexual expression?

What evidence do you have to support your viewpoint?

2) Why might a person who considers them self to be a Christian reject the Bible's instructions on human sexuality?

3) Why is marriage the best environment for sex?

4) What are some legitimate reasons that a spouse might refuse the advances of his/her partner?

5) Read 1 Cor. 7:4 ~ does this scripture mean that a spouse can "demand" sex from their partner?

6) List any Biblical or contemporary people who chose a life of celibacy.

What advantage (if any) do you see from their choice?

7) What unique benefits does the married person experience over the single person?
